The preparation for drama stage drama was not as easily as I had've expected. Since it's our first attempt at this art form, so I picked Snow White as our script because its story is so well known that every cast member has the background knowledge needed. To make it more accessible to modern audience and more entertaining, Firstly, I have to translate translated and readapted the script as well as remake in order to make it more entertain.ed, Meanwhile, to creatively innovate and differ-set us apart from normal other common drama performances, I picked an urbane guy to be the ~~S~~ Snow ~~W~~ white, while a handsome girl to be the prince. Also, though I am not a Virgo, I am a perfectionist urged by my perfectionist heart, so I decided to go a step further by building make a 3D castle, about 3m X 5m meters wide and 5 meters tall, to make the drama more vivid.

Comment:

You need to clarify several logical transitions here: why is Snow White an intuitive choice for drama newbies? Why is the act of making a 3D castle considered "perfectionist"? For the former, you can talk about how maybe Snow White is so well known that it requires little reunodization? For the latter, maybe you can mention how you were expected to only prepare a simpler background canvas yet instead you decided to go a step further to perfect the scene, by making a 3D castle?
